50+ YEARS OF EXCELLENCE

For over 50 years we have never settled for “good enough”. Our history is moulded by a dedication to safety and a commitment to developing the toughest safety products.

We design solutions that solve specific safety challenges and help customers satisfy strict regulatory obligations. Keeping people safe, well and protected is what drives us to continually innovate.

Our development cycle begins by listening to customers and reviewing the latest safety regulations; from there we design, develop, prototype, test and test again. We don't stop until a solution is tough, compliant and proven.
